FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

PAIGE MARTIN OF SPROUT STUDIO & GARDENS AWARDED LANDSCAPE ARCHITECT FOR WEST COAST GREEN

August 2008 - Paige Martin, founder of Sprout Studio & Gardens, was awarded landscape architect for the West Coast Green's fall tradeshow. West Coast Green, the nation's largest conference and expo dedicated to green innovation, building, design and technology will be held this year at the San Jose Convention Center, September 25-27th. Sprout Studio & Gardens will design and install the gardens surrounding the central Showhouse, a visionary example of innovative residential design and execution. The garden will create places where visitors can explore green possibilities, mingle and relax in garden rooms and appreciate artisan-crafted, sculptural garden accessories and furniture. Mature olive trees will provide soft, protective canopies to the spaces below and native and drought-tolerant planting will celebrate indigenous plant communities and water conservation. An organic kitchen garden encouraging sustainable food production and a hummingbird / butterfly garden supporting wildlife will be set within a framework of local, natural stone and porous paving. Bay area recycled wood will create garden fences that define the entry as well as a trellis for solar panels – an innovative solution for renewable energy. Come visit the gardens and discover fresh, creative inspiration.
